

JOSEPH PALIOURAS
Protopresbyter

Fr Joseph Paliouras was born in Trikala, Greece in 1961. He began his musical studies at an early age graduating with diplomas from the University of Athens in not only Byzantine but also European music. He holds a degree in Theology from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, from Higher Ecclesiastical Academy of Athens and a Master's Degree in Music Education from the University of Reading.

In 1986 he moved to London where he now resides. He is a member of The Greek Educational Mission in Great Britain and he works as Music and Religious Education Teacher in the Greek Secondary School of London. He is the founder of the School of Byzantine Music in London and also was the director and the conductor of its choir for the last 30 years 1986-2016. Rev. Paliouras was ordained as a priest on Christmas Eve 1988 and currently serves as Priest in Charge of the Holy Church of The Twelve Apostles in Brookmans Park, Hertfordshire, UK.

For the last twenty-five years has presented the weekly radio programme «From the Hymns of the Church» on London Greek Radio. In addition to this, he also contributes to the weekly broadcast «Window to the Blue» and «The Voice of the Church». At Hellenic Television Father Joseph also presents the weekly programme «Tomorrow is Sunday» and «Seize Education».

He has also released various CDs containing religious hymns and songs such as: «Hymns of Christmas Day», «The Service of The Bridegroom», «The Holy Passion», «Double Celebration», «Christmas and New Year Song», «Ethnic Songs» and others.
